JJ's BBQ of Elba claims "Bama's Best Pulled Pork" title

by Marlee Moore,
Ala. Farmers Federation

Chequita Walker takes a simple approach to pork preparation — a move that helped the subtly smoked swine at JJ's BBQ in Elba clinch the title of Bama's Best Pulled Pork.

"The recipes aren't a big secret, but I'm not telling everybody," Walker said with a smile. "Texture matters. If the pork is cooked right, it falls apart."

Sponsored by the Alabama Pork Producers, the Bama's Best Pulled Pork contest scoured the state for hometown restaurants paying homage to barbecue. JJ's BBQ serves slow-smoked pork shoulder infused with hints of hickory, oak and pecan. The tender meat is then mixed with burnt ends that crackle and melt when diners bite into the 'que, particularly when it's served on a sandwich or piled on a baked potato.

JJ's BBQ was one of four restaurants judges visited July 15-16. The Bama's Best Pulled Pork Final Four was selected from over 100 nominations on Facebook and scored over 2,000 votes.

"If I can take a good piece of pork and enhance it with sauce, that's good," said contest judge Josh Tubbs, a pig farmer from Walker County. "If the sauce doesn't take away from the flavor, that's even better. JJ's was the best of both worlds."

Judges were pig farmer Josh Tubbs, Alabama Farmers Federation Pork Division Director Russ Durrance and "Simply Southern TV" host Mary Wilson.

Tubbs, whose family raises hogs in Walker County, said judging criteria included pork texture and taste, followed by sauce flavor.

"If I can take a good piece of pork and enhance it with sauce, that's good," he said. "If the sauce doesn't take away from the flavor, that's even better. JJ's was the best of both worlds."

Durrance said it was impressive to see communities rally around the Bama's Best Pulled Pork finalists.

"We visited places that are off the beaten path," he said. "It's cool to see community support for these restaurants and for the pork industry. Farmers are out working every day of the year, and we appreciate consumers who enjoy their great products."

JJ's menu must-haves include ribs, barbecue baked beans, rice cooked in chicken broth and served with pulled chicken, and smooth, mustardy potato salad. Walker spoons up two sauces — a sweet, tomato-based sauce and a spicier version she likes to drizzle on a pulled pork sandwich heaped with slaw.

Family plays a big part in JJ's BBQ. Walker grew up watching her father and grandfather smoke whole hogs and worked in the restaurant business before branching out on her own.

The walk-up-only restaurant is manned by family members and is named after Walker's adopted son, Josiah.

Walker, who works full time for the Department of Corrections, said her next goal is to build a dine-in restaurant.

"The people of Elba have shown me nothing but love."

Governor encourages Alabamians to complete the 2020 Census report

by Linda Hodge, Editor

A press summit held Tuesday morning, July 21, featured Alabama Governor Kay Ivey and others urging citizens to complete their Census 2020 report.

"The 2020 Census is critical to our state," Governor Ivey said. "At current response numbers we remain at serious risk of losing [legislative] representation and federal funding."

The governor said statewide, Alabama currently has a 59.8 percent response rate for the self-report time of the 2020 Census. She said that is two percentage points behind the national response rate.

"We can and must do better," Ivey said. "Sixty percent just won't get it! There is still time to self-report."

She said losing federal funding could mean less money for schools, roads, and other federally funded programs the state and its people currently have in place.

Kenneth Boswell, chairman of the Alabama Counts! 2020 census committee, said everyone realizes the COVID-19 pandemic had overshadowed the focus on the Census this year, but he said there needs to be a continued push now to be sure Alabamians are completing and returning their Census information.

"We are making a push now because this Census information will impact us for the next 10 years," Boswell said. "Right now, we would lose one, if not two, representatives at the federal level for our state with the current response."

Marilyn Stephens, the assistant regional manager for the Census Bureau's Atlanta Region, said Alabama is leading many states in the region with response, but there is still room to improve the numbers before Census workers are asked to start making door-to-door contacts.

On Aug. 11th we will start knocking on doors to get the Census questionnaire completed," Stephens said. "Today, however, is the day to respond and complete the questionnaire ahead of time to prevent that knock at your door."

Ivey said Census workers going door-to-door beginning Aug. 11th would play an important role in helping Alabama maintain its federal funding and representation. She said these workers would help increase the state's overall census reporting numbers.

For instance, the governor said in 2010 the self-report rate for Alabama was 62.5 percent, and that percentage increased to a

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

"Tact is the ability to describe others as they see themselves." — Abraham Lincoln

It had not crossed our mind until lately, but those who have personally faced the fight against 'the bug' may now face the stigma that was faced by Ebola virus survivors and to a far lesser degree even today, cancer survivors. So, we each should make it a point not to unconsciously shy away from associating with those who have suffered the pains of COVID-19 and lived to tell about it. The price they paid is high enough without (former) friends acting like they are still walking around spreading a highly contagious and deadly disease.

Kill the messenger! That is what might describe the attitude in Washington as the administration is critical of all the medical experts and tend to deny the current rise in confirmed cases of COVID-19 and the alarming increase in deaths from the virus. To encourage a cutback in testing, etc., because indications of increased infections might make some officials look bad, sounds horrible to this old country boy. Nothing we can think of in this whole wide world is worth sacrificing one single human life for political gain.

US gun sales have surged in 2020. The experts are noting that 40% are first-time firearm owners. Many of these are women who are concerned about their own safety. During this same time background checks are up a whopping 136%, according to the National Shooting Sports Foundation. The good thing are that a large number of these new gun owners are also signing up for training classes on how to use the weapon and the related safety practices associated with handling a loaded firearm. We have heard entirely too many people admit to owning a pistol "but I don't know how to use it." Frankly, we think that is more dangerous than not even having the weapon!

Don Siegelman's book 'Stealing Our Democracy' has apparently been sliding off (if not flying off) the shelves following it's official release by NewSouth Books. Amazon started taking pre-orders several months ahead of the release but then delayed shipping several weeks because of the surge in their pandemic related sales. Somewhere along the way there was a minor price reduction and us pre-order folks got a few pennies refunded! That was a surprise, but personally we didn't decline the refund to our credit card account. Anyway, we were familiar with much of the information in the book, but with so many blanks the book filled in for us made the reading worth the time.

Someone sitting at home in pandemic isolation was thinking positive when remembering that the pretty maiden Rapunzel met her lover while confined in that high old tower in the forest. Of course, the latest version of Rapunzel is the Disney movie, but variations of the plot date back to at least the 1600's. The Disney character follows the 1812 German version (which was adapted from a 1790 German version). Several other writers modified the original 1634 Italian tale. Today isolation has not lasted quite long enough for a maiden's hair to grow as long as Rapunzel's, but hopefully the current outcome will end as did this fairy tale with all living happily ever after.

Happy 100th Mother Smith!

by Lois G. Russell

On Saturday, July 11, 2020, my childhood neighborhood in Elba, Alabama, celebrated a milestone: the 100th birthday of a woman who is affectionately known as "Mother Smith."

A celebratory convoy of cars lined up for a birthday parade in her honor. The lineup included several generations of family and friends who waved and blew their horns in tribute to a woman who had touched countless lives and hearts.

Mary Liza Smith, whose actual birth date was July 13, is something of an icon in the Mulberry Heights community. Having grown up there, I remember her as one of the people whose presence was larger than life.

She and her husband, Otis, raised seven children in their home that was centrally located in the neighborhood. She not only nurtured and watched over her own children, but like so many of the women in Mulberry Heights at that time, she also had a hand in helping to "raise" most of us who were blessed to grow up in The Heights.

Mother Smith was one of the self-appointed sentinels who would stop the children of my generation as we passed her house and ask, "Does your Mama know where you are?"

Even though we might have resented those mini interrogations back then, we can appreciate now how women like her helped to keep us safe.

I always think of her with great fondness.

Actually, if you have ever known Mother Smith, you would probably find it very difficult to forget her piercing voice and her trademark smile. While she has faced her share of troubles in life, she still is known to proclaim, "God has been good to me!"

A woman of great faith, Mother Smith is a longtime member of Harris Temple Church of God in Christ. She shares her love for God and for her church family with whoever will listen. During services, she is one of the first ones to take to the floor to "shout" in praise to God, and she still tries to be on hand to assist with the Evangelism Department's food and clothing distribution ministry.

Her age may have slowed her down a bit, but it certainly has not stopped her.

I saw Mother Smith a few weeks ago as we waited outside a hospital in Florida. As I stood near the car in which she sat, an emergency helicopter arrived to bring a patient.

She looked up in awe as the aircraft hovered and then landed on the roof of the building. She asked me what was happening. When I told her, her face lit up in wonder.

"Well, isn't that something? I never saw anything like it before," she said as she beamed that beautiful smile.

She watched until the blades stopped spinning. Her face grew solemn, and she seemed to be lost in thought for a moment. When she spoke again, she gave me a few words of wisdom that we all would do well to follow as we face the current global pandemic.

"You know, these are some perilous times we're living in. We need to pray and get closer to God. He's going to bring us through this. Yes, He is."

Thank you, Beautiful Angel, for your wisdom and your smiles.

Happy 100th Birthday, Mother Mary Liza Smith.

Mary Liza Phillips Smith (pictured, left) celebrated her 100th Birthday with a theme of 100 Years Loved on Saturday, July 11, 2020, with a small group of family, friends and church family.

Those in attendance were served an array of catered foods. The birthday queen started her day with a drive by parade from friends and family and ended with a beautiful party. She is a long-time resident of Elba coming to the city with a growing family from Barbour County, Ala. She worked for Dr. Hayes, Kleinerts and Con Agra Foods for many years of her life.

Upon retirement, she was a foster parent for many years. She served as a foster grandparent well into her retirement years. She is a devoted church mother of Harris Temple C.O.G.I.C where Superintendent W K Ellison is the Pastor.

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou yielded her spot this week for the celebration of the 100th birthday of Mrs. Mary Liza Phillips Smith! Happy Birthday to this special lady! Cuzin Lou Lou can only hope that Sister has to put up with Lou Lou's antics for that many years. Lou Lou will be back next week with a new tale!

Chequita Walker, owner of JJ's BBQ in Elba, checks on her pork as it smokes and cooks to perfection last Wednesday, July 15th. Judges tasting last Wednesday's pulled pork named JJ's the winner of the "Bama's Best Pulled Pork" contest this week. Walker said she loves what she does, and she always remains grateful to the people of Elba for supporting her and JJ's BBQ.

"They come out and support me," said Walker, who was born and raised locally. "I have love in my heart for what I do."

As Bama's Best Pulled Pork winner, JJ's BBQ won $500 and will be featured in the September Neighbors magazine. The Elba eatery also earned bragging rights and a plaque, courtesy of the Alabama Pork Producers.

JJ's is open Thursday and Friday from 4:30-8:30 p.m. and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Visit the restaurant at 509 Claxton Ave., Elba, AL 36323.

The remaining Bama's Best Pulled Pork finalists were Heard's BBQ in Maplesville, Holy Smoke BBQ in Hartselle and The Pink Pig food truck in Moulton.

The finalists and JJ's BBQ will be featured in the next season of "Simply Southern TV."

Wilson, who hosts the Alabama Farmers Federation-sponsored show, thanked all four finalists for hosting the judges.

"I've always told people that if I could have only one meal for the rest of my life, it would be BBQ pork, so judging this contest was a dream come true," Wilson said. "The four finalists did not disappoint and definitely deserved to be honored. It was tough competition, but the smokiness of JJ's BBQ really stood out. I also judge pork by the flavor you find in the burnt ends, and Chequita has found a way to give it a perfect char without drying the meat out."

72 percent Census response for the state with the door-to-door follow-up. However, she said for those citizens wanting to avoid a knock at the door by a census worker, it is easy to complete the Census questionnaire and would only take about 6 minutes to do so.

"To avoid a knock at the door, go ahead and self-report before August 11th," Governor Ivey said. "Fortunately for all of us this is a marathon, not a sprint. We still have time, but it is crucial that all Alabamians are accounted for with the 2020 Census."

Stephens said Alabama counts for every resource available to it, and she, along with the others, encourages all citizens to go ahead and get their report done by self-reporting today.

The governor said citizens wanting to self-report can visit the website:

www.my2020census.gov; call 1-844-330-2020 to answer the questions via telephone; or by mailing the paper form sent out earlier this year in return mail.

In Elba, help is available to citizens in completing the 2020 Census report.

Why is Having a Place to Visit a Loved One So Important?

Following the death of a loved one, it's not uncommon to keep the cremated urns of that loved one in your home for a few days, allowing you a time of personal remembrance. Sooner or later, though, it's always important to give your loved one a final resting place - whether that's a grave site, a niche in a columbarium, or a space in an urn garden. Essentially, you want to have a location where you and other loved ones can go to visit your loved one - and there are a few reasons for this. One is simply that it makes it easier for everyone in the family to pay their respects. A relative may wish to go to the grave site to honor the deceased, something that's a lot harder to do if you simply keep the remains in your private residence.

It's also important to remember future generations. When your loved one has a permanent resting place, it allows descendants the opportunity to remember and to acknowledge the legacy of which they are a part of. What's more, burial records are important to future generations that might wish to research their family roots. But more than anything, you and your loved ones will want a physical place you can go to be in the presence of your deceased family member. Those who scatter ashes but never give their loved one a permanent home often regret that they don't have such a place to gather, commemorate, and mourn.

There are a number of options to choose from, whether you want to lay your loved one to rest in a traditional cemetery plot or seek an alternative. Speak to our cemetery staff to learn more.

Winners and Losers

Ray Charles popularized a song years ago, which was titled, "Born to Lose." The words of the song were along these lines:

*"Born to lose, I've lived my life in vain,
All my dreams have only brought me pain...
Born to lose, and now I'm losing you."*

It is understood that many people sang the song because they liked the tune, liked Ray Charles, or identified with some of the adversity mentioned in the song.

However, the concept of determinism in the song and the resultant pessimism are often encountered. Many people respond to adversity by capitulating their ability and right to overcome the hardship. They simply say, "It was meant to be."

The many injunctions in the Bible which urge us to endure hardship, overcome evil with good, and win personal moral, physical and spiritual victories cause one to doubt any complete determinism by God or the "fates."

The examples of people who got out of ruts of sin, wrong, and failure also contradict the idea that just because one was a loser yesterday, he must remain a loser. With faith in God, "...Nothing shall be impossible unto you." (Matthew 17:20b)

Experiences in life should teach us that we do have something to contribute to situations we face. It is a pitiful thing to see a young student fail a test and resign himself to the idea that he is a loser. It is heartbreaking to hear a capable child say, "Some people are meant to be smart and others aren't." On the other hand, it is inspiring to see a student who has not been doing well commit himself to be a diligent student.

The idea that what a person does has a direct bearing on his life situation is a concept that affects every area of life. More marriages would work if people worked more at their marriages. A promotion is more likely to come if an employee applies himself to his job. The applications are endless.

Does the attitude of being "born to win" or "born to lose" have much to do with success in life? It definitely does. It is not the only consideration for any given success story, but it is an element which must be "factored in."

The apostle Paul provided a good example of a person with the winning attitude when he declared he could do all things through Christ who gave him strength. (Phil. 4:23)

Many of us have become deeply involved in watching a television program, hardly aware of the passing of time. Just when it seems that we are reaching a pivotal moment in the action, the TV picture freezes, and at the bottom of the screen appear the words: To Be Continued. We realize, to our dismay, that we are going to have to wait another week to find out what happens.

As Jesus was dying on the cross, one of the statements He uttered was, "It is finished" [John 19:30], and certainly that was true in that He had paid the price "in full" for the sins of the world. But there was more to come. The resurrection of Jesus tells us that His death on the cross was not the conclusion of God's work. His plan was "to be continued" - and so it was three days later when Jesus arose. We are reminded that it is only when we look back at the cross from the vantage point of the resurrection that the cross makes any sense at all. Few people doubt that Jesus died on the cross. Many doubt that He arose from the dead. It is amazing that those who doubt can see any value in Jesus, any helpful lessons from His life, or any relevance in His teachings. But when you include, as you must, the resurrection then and only then does the story of Jesus become truly good news. Only then do we share in the victory that Jesus secured we realize that death is not the end for those who trust Jesus: Life is "to be continued" - with Him. ~ R.C.S.

LIFESTYLES

STATE FARM DONATES 'OODLES OF NOODLES' TO ELBA FOOD BANK...On Wednesday, July 15, Elba State Farm Office – Kenneth Calhoun, agent – donated hundreds of boxes of spaghetti noodles and macaroni and cheese to the Elba Food Bank. Calhoun said the State Farm Corporation wanted to do something to help communities during this time of the COVID-19 pandemic, and the corporation asked local agencies to come up with a 'catchy phrase' to catch its attention for monies to be donated to that agency to give back to the community. Calhoun's office came up with the "Oodles of Noodles" phrase with the idea to donate noodles to the Elba Food Bank. Calhoun's local office added some additional funds to the monies provided to them from the State Farm Corporation, and the oodles of noodles were delivered last week to the Elba Food Bank (as shown above). Those pictured include: Ray Goodson, Elba Food Bank volunteer; Chelsea Cooper, State Farm employee with the Kenneth Calhoun office; State Farm Agent Kenneth Calhoun; Brewer Box, Elba Food Bank volunteer; and Tommy Grimes, Elba Food Bank volunteer.

Kinston's Dylan Moulton earns NJCAA student-athlete academic honor in golf

Another scholastic record for the Northeast Mississippi Community College athletic department has fallen during the 2019-20 school year.

A total of 21 players from each competitive sports program at Northeast received National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) Academic Student-Athlete Awards.

Locally, golf's Dylan Moulton, a 2018 Kinston

School graduate [Kinston, Alabama] tallied a 3.69 GPA to amass a third-team prize. Third-team prestige for carrying a GPA between 3.6 and 3.79.

"These are honors that all areas from students to faculty to our administration can take great pride in," said Northeast athletic director Kent Farris. "I am very proud of all our student-athletes and the manner in which they represent us."

Secretary of State extends absentee voting for August Municipal Elections

Secretary of State John H. Merrill extended the opportunity for anyone concerned about COVID-19 to apply for and cast an absentee ballot for the upcoming municipal elections.

At the request of the Alabama League of Municipalities on behalf of all Alabama municipalities scheduled to hold an election in 2020, Merrill authorized anyone concerned about contracting or spreading COVID-19 to cast an absentee ballot in order to avoid the polls on Election Day.

Any qualified voter who determines it is impossible or unreasonable to vote at their polling place shall be eligible to check the box on the absentee ballot application that is most applicable to that individual. State law allows the Secretary of State to issue absentee voting guidance during declared states of emergency, allowing Secretary Merrill to encourage voters to check the box which reads as follows (in the case none of the boxes are appropriate): "I have a physical illness or infirmity which prevents my attendance at the polls. [ID REQUIRED]"

"We appreciate the Secretary of State's Office collaborating with ALM to address these extraordinary circumstances as we head into municipal elections," said Greg Cochran, League of Municipalities Executive Director. "Ensuring all Alabamians have a voice through their vote is imperative to the success of our state."

For the August 25 municipal elections, the deadline to register to vote is Monday, August 10, the deadline to submit an absentee ballot application is Thursday, August 20, and the deadline to hand-deliver an absentee ballot is the close of business Monday, August 24. If an absentee ballot is returned by mail, it must be postmarked by August 24 and received by noon on August 25.

If necessary, runoff elections will be held on Tuesday, October 6.

Elba Housing Authority says landlords needed for local Section 8 housing program

The Elba Housing Authority is currently searching for landlords in Elba and the surrounding area.

Because of an inadequate number of suitable houses on the program, approximately 20 families or individuals who have been qualified for the program are still searching for a place to live at any given time.

"The problem is due in part to a loss of housing inventory in the 2015 Christmas Flood and part due to some common misconceptions about the program that have scared away some potential landlords," said Elba Housing Authority executive director, Laurie Chapman. Most of these myths are associated with the following:

- Geography: Elba Housing Authority is allocated 119 Section 8 vouchers for use within Elba but they also they can go up to 15 miles outside the Elba Police Jurisdiction signs.
- Paperwork: There is less paperwork than most landlords anticipate and most of it is prepared by the Elba Housing Authority staff.
- Inspections: The Elba Housing Authority does a basic inspection of rental property on the front end to make sure it meets HUD's Housing Quality Standards, but it primarily addresses common-sense safety and code issues. If deficiencies are discovered, landlords are given the opportunity to fix those, or they can simply withdraw the property from the program.

- Leases: The Section 8 program requires a separate agreement between the Housing Authority and the landlord related to terms of the program, but for the most part it stays out of leases between landlords and the tenants, although they do ensure that there is no discrimination in renting.
- Rent: The program does not set the rent and only requires that it and any security

- deposits be "fair and reasonable" based on local experiences. Once the rent is set, Section 8 requires that families pay up to 30% of their income toward rent and housing expenses, and the housing authority pays the rest directly to the landlord.
- Enforcement: One misconception is that landlords cannot enforce the terms of their leases. If a tenant violates the lease, the Housing Authority does not stand in the way of enforcement.
- Units: Section 8 vouchers can be used to rent apartments, single-family homes, duplexes, triplexes, mobile homes, townhouses and condos.
- Screening: The Housing

Authority verifies income and does a criminal background check (although only certain convictions disqualify a tenant) on all applicants. Any other screenings (such as eviction and credit history) are not only the landlord's right but also their responsibility.

• Benefits for Landlords: The Housing Authority's portion of the rent is guaranteed each month.

A tenant's fear of losing their Section 8 voucher helps hold them accountable to lease obligations, such as prompt payment and taking care of the property.

The program can help landlords identify tenants. If interested in being a Section 8 voucher holder, stop by the Elba Housing Authority Office located at 1207 North Claxton Avenue to get an application and to schedule an interview for admission to the program. The Elba Housing Authority is in the process of updating its website and hopes to have the ability to apply online added in the near future. Check on that by visiting www.elbahousing.org.

Property owners or potential applicants who have questions about Section 8 or want to participate can call 334-897-2737 and speak with the Section 8 program coordinator, Marianne Marler or email her directly at mmarler@elbahousing.org

Coffee County Schools today announced its policy for free and reduced-price meals for children served in schools under the National School Lunch Program and/or School Breakfast Program. Local school officials have adopted the following household size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Children need healthy meals to learn. Coffee County Schools offers healthy meals every school day. Breakfast costs $1.00 lunch costs $2.25. Your children may qualify for free meals or for reduced price meals. Reduced price is $3.30 for breakfast and $4.40 for lunch. Below are some common questions and answers to help you with the application process.

1. WHO CAN GET FREE OR REDUCED PRICE MEALS?

- All children in households receiving benefits from Alabama SNAP, the Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations (FDPIR) or Alabama TANF, are eligible for free meals.
- Foster children that are under the legal responsibility of a foster care agency or court are eligible for free meals.
- Children participating in their school's Head Start program are eligible for free meals.
- Children who meet the definition of homeless, runaway, or migrant are eligible for free meals.

- When known to Coffee County Schools, households will be notified of their children's eligibility for free meals based on their participation (or a household member's participation) in the: o Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP); Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations (FDPIR); or Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), if the State program meets Federal standards.
- When known to Coffee County Schools, households will be notified of any child's eligibility for free meals based on the individual child's designation as Other Source Categorically Eligible, as defined by law. Children are determined Other Source Categorically Eligible if they are:
 - Homeless,

2. HOW DO I KNOW IF MY CHILDREN QUALIFY AS HOMELESS, MIGRANT, OR RUNAWAY? Do the members of your household lack a permanent address? Are you staying together in a shelter, hotel, or other temporary housing arrangement? Does your family relocate on a seasonal basis? Are any children living with you who have chosen to leave their prior family or household? If you believe children in your household meet these descriptions and haven't been told your children will get free meals, please call or e-mail your child's school.

3. DO I NEED TO FILL OUT AN APPLICATION FOR EACH CHILD? No. Use one Free and Reduced Price School Meals Application for all students in your household. We cannot approve an application that is not complete, so be sure to fill out all required information. Return the completed application to your child's school.

4. SHOULD I FILL OUT AN APPLICATION IF I RECEIVED A LETTER THIS SCHOOL YEAR SAYING MY CHILDREN ARE ALREADY APPROVED FOR FREE MEALS? No, but please read the letter you got carefully and follow the instructions. If any children in your household were missing from your eligibility notification, contact your child's school immediately.

5. CAN I APPLY ONLINE? No, an online application is not available at this time.

6. MY CHILD'S APPLICATION WAS APPROVED LAST YEAR. DO I NEED TO FILL OUT A NEW ONE? Yes. Your child's application is only good for that school year and for the first few days of this school year, through September 21, 2020. You must send in a new application unless the school told you that your child is eligible for the new school year. If you do not send in a new application that is approved by the school or you have not been notified that your child is eligible for free meals, your child will be charged the full price for meals.

7. I GET WIC. CAN MY CHILDREN GET FREE MEALS? Children in households participating in WIC may be eligible for free or reduced price meals. Please send in an application.

8. WILL THE INFORMATION I GIVE BE CHECKED? Yes. In accordance with program regulations school officials will be verifying the income of some households at some time during the school year. Selected households will be requested to provide income documentation in order to continue receiving free and reduced-price meals.

9. IF I DON'T QUALIFY NOW, MAY I APPLY LATER? Yes, you may apply at any time during the school year. For example, children with a parent or guardian who becomes unemployed may become eligible for free and reduced price meals if the household income drops below the income limit.

10. WHAT IF I DISAGREE WITH THE SCHOOL'S DECISION ABOUT MY APPLICATION? You should talk to school officials. You also may ask for a hearing by calling or writing to: Kevin Killingsworth, 334-897-5106, 400 Reddoch Hill Road, Elba, Alabama 36323, killingsworthk@coffeecounty.k12.al.us.

11. MAY I APPLY IF SOMEONE IN MY HOUSEHOLD IS NOT A U.S. CITIZEN? Yes. You, your children, or other household members do not have to be U.S. citizens to apply for free or reduced price meals.

12. WHAT IF MY INCOME IS NOT ALWAYS THE SAME? List the amount that you normally receive. For example, if you normally make $1000 each month, but you missed some work last month and only made $900, put down that you made $1000 per month. If you normally get overtime, include it, but do not include it if you only work overtime sometimes. If you have lost a job or had your hours or wages reduced, use your current income.

13. WHAT IF SOME HOUSEHOLD MEMBERS HAVE NO INCOME TO REPORT? Household members may not receive some types of income we ask you to report on the application or may not receive income at all. Whenever this happens, please write a 0 in the field. However, if any income fields are left empty or blank, those will also be counted as zeroes. Please be careful when leaving income fields blank, as we will assume you meant to do so.

14. DO I HAVE TO PROVIDE MY SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER? Only the last 4 digits of the social security number of the household's primary wage earner or another adult household member (or an indication of "none") is required.

15. MAY I DECLINE BENEFITS? Yes. Households notified of their children's eligibility must contact Coffee County Schools or the school the child attends if they choose to decline the free meal benefits.

16. WHAT IF ALL CHILDREN ELIGIBLE FOR BENEFITS ARE NOT ON THE NOTICE OF ELIGIBILITY LETTER? If children or households receive benefits under Assistance Programs or Other Source Categorically Eligible Programs and are not listed on the notice of eligibility and are not notified by the school of their free meal benefits, the parent or guardian should contact the school or should submit an income application.

17. WE ARE IN THE MILITARY. DO WE REPORT OUR INCOME DIFFERENTLY? Your basic pay and cash bonuses must be reported as income. If you get any cash value allowances for off-base housing, food, or clothing, it must also be included as income. However, if your housing is part of the Military Housing Privatization Initiative, do not include your housing allowance as income. Any additional combat pay resulting from deployment is also excluded from income.

18. WHAT IF THERE ISN'T ENOUGH SPACE ON THE APPLICATION FOR MY FAMILY? List any additional household members on a separate piece of paper and attach it to your application. Contact your child's school to receive a second application.

19. MY FAMILY NEEDS MORE HELP. ARE THERE OTHER PROGRAMS WE MIGHT APPLY FOR? To find out how to apply for Alabama SNAP or other assistance benefits, contact your local assistance office.

If you have other questions or need help, call 334-897-5016.

Sincerely,
Gray Harrison, CNP Director

Our grandson Lawson has spent the summer in the pool and at various water parks around the area. So, last week his Nanny and I went over to the Bama Slam Park near New Brockton and watched him do his thing on slides, swings, a water trampoline and diving platforms. He had a ball, as did everyone there, and I was very impressed with the number of lifeguards on duty to insure the safety of everyone in the water. It is a great place to take the family, and is one of Lawson's favorites!

For what it is worth....

 The official kickoff of preseason football workouts begins next week and here in Elba new coach Marc Sieving and his staff and players are ready to get to work. The players and coaches have been hard at work all summer getting to know each other and installing a new scheme on offense and defense, and they are ready to strap on the pads and get to work with the season less than a month away. While the numbers may be down slightly, the enthusiasm is still there, and all Elba Tiger fans have July 27 circled on their calendars as opening night. Hey, even at my age I still get excited about the start of the season and am ready to see Coach Sieving and his team hit the field.

 Excitement is high all across the state and local area, with every team chewing at the bits to get on the field in pads. Over at New Brockton, the Gamecocks are looking forward to competing in Class 3A and facing new opponents with a renewed confidence, while down in Kinston, Coach Rudy Free is in his second year with the Bulldogs and has everyone convinced better days are ahead as they battle for a return to the playoffs. Up in Zion Chapel, the Rebels are still 2A, but find themselves in a new region, and are convinced that their recent success on the gridiron will continue, and over at Brantley, the Bulldogs are ready to get back to work and believe that they will add another state championship trophy to the trophy case with one of its best teams ever.

 National Federation of High Schools executive director Dr. Karissa Niehoff wrote in a column last week that although there were places in the nation where there was a high rate of COVID-19 that could result in the delay of students returning to classes and extra-curricular activities, she believed "the resumption of in-person classes, sports and other activities is crucial to the growth, development and mental and emotional wellness of our nation's youth." She admitted that while the pandemic was far from over, a return to play must be done with a positive and informed perspective to keep the programs going. I agree. COVID-19 will be around for a while, but it isn't going to just disappear and we all need to learn to live with it and make adjustments.

 The area sports scene lost a true friend last week with the passing of Ralph Black, the longtime radio voice of the Troy Trojans with one of the most recognizable voices on the radio. Black was there for some of the biggest moments in Trojan history in football, basketball and baseball, and in recent years hosted a weekly coaches show on a Troy radio station and was the PA announcer at Charles Henderson High football games. His love for people and sports was always evident in the job he did, and it will never be the same without "Mister Ralph" talking about sports and high school football.

 USA Today published its annual survey of collegiate athletics finances last week and the biggest thing the survey revealed is simply that the rich are only getting richer! The pre-pandemic report was based upon figures for 2018-2019, and atop the list once again was Texas, with a revenue of $223.9 million, followed by Texas A & M with $212.7 million in total athletic revenue. Alabama came in at #7 with a revenue of $164.1, which was down from the year before due to the fact university accountants deferred over $25 million in revenue to 2020 to help with tax laws. Auburn was ranked 13th with $152.4 million, while the other SEC schools in the Top 10 included #5 Georgia $174 million, #9 Florida $159.7 million and #10 LSU $157.7 million. Other state schools in the list included #86 UAB $36.4 million, #104 Troy $32.3 million, #154 Jacksonville State $18.4 million and #193 Alabama State $13.4 million. There is no doubt college sports is a big business!

 A report last week by the NCAA's Sports Science Institute seemed to do little more than give the nation's colleges a built in excuse not to play football this fall. The report stated that data pointed in the wrong direction where COVID-19 is concerned and showed in charts how the pandemic is actually worse than it was back in the spring when the NCAA basketball tournament and all spring sports were shut down. The report used numbers that are disputed by many in the science field to show the rate the virus is expanding, and if the NCAA goes by the numbers, and nothing else, it will be interesting in a couple of weeks when the NCAA makes a final decision. My gut feeling isn't good, but I still have high hopes that a season will be played.

Official opening of drills July 27

Tigers are ready to hear pads popping

The Elba Tigers are less than a week away from the official start of preseason football practice and new head coach Marc Sieving stated last week that the players and coaches are excited and are ready to go.

"We are all excited about the beginning of fall drills and can now look ahead at the calendar and see that the season starts in less than a month," said Coach Sieving. "We have accomplished a lot during the summer and feel really good about where we are, but there is only so much you can get done in shorts and it is time to put on the pads and get to work."

"One of the best things about the weeks of summer work is that I got to know all the players, now have expectations of what they can do and along with the coaches have been able to develop a plan for going forward," added Sieving.

"On July 27 we will officially begin fall workouts, which means we will be out in shorts for three days and shells for one day before we put on the pads. Once we get on the pads we will be able to find out if the guys that blocked bags in the summer can block a real person and find out just who are really football players. During the summer we were able to get everyone lined up and found positions for the players on both offense and defense. Now it will be time to start hitting and to find out if we made the best choices, and of course make personnel changes. We still have a lot of work to do before the season kicks off, but we have had a really good summer and are looking forward to getting down to real work."

"When we come back next week we will try to make it as similar to a typical school day as possible," added Sieving. "We will start practice at four o'clock, will work in the weight room, watch some film and hit the field. Hopefully it won't be quite so hot by that time and we will stay out until about seven. There will be a lot of individual work with all the players with their position coaches and of course a lot of work on knowing for sure we understand our offense and defense. We believe we got in about ninety percent of our offense and defense during the summer and that the players understand what we are trying to do, but you never really know until the pads come on. Our priority this week has been special teams and finding the right people to get the job done, while next week the priorities on offense will be to block, get proper spacing and have everyone doing their job, and on defense the priority will be tackling. Basics and fundamentals are always a priority."

Elba Tiger head coach Marc Sieving works with linemen during a recent summer workout. The Tigers will kickoff the official start of preseason practice on July 27, with the season opener on Aug. 21.

Coach Sieving reported that the Tigers have 32 players on the varsity squad, and while the numbers are down a little from years past, all the players have been consistent at attending practice and getting in the work needed during the summer.

"We know the numbers are down a little," added Sieving, "and with the way the last school year ended that is to be expected, but we have our team and will play with what we have. The lack of depth will make it more important than ever that everyone be in the best condition possible. We will have players going both ways, and playing on special teams, and that means they have to be in shape, not just in the weight room, but in the heat on the football field. We'll get everyone a break when we get the chance, but we know that there will be times when the best eleven players have to be on the field, and be ready to give their best. It will be a challenge for sure, but it is a challenge I believe our players will accept and will achieve."

Coach Sieving said the Tigers will hold a scrimmage on the evening of August 7, at Tiger Stadium, for the fans to get the chance to see their team on the field and get to know the players and coaches.

Volleyball tryouts set for July 27 in Elba

Elba High students hoping to become Lady Tigers for the 2020 high school volleyball season have been hard at work for a number of weeks and Coach Caiden Harrell reports everyone has been working hard and expectations are high.

"We have been working out and practicing on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays," said Coach Harrell, "and we have been doing drills during each practice to focus on individual volleyball skills. We have also been working hard in the weight room and have done cardio and conditioning work on Wednesdays and have been using the football stadium to run steps, as well as running one mile every Wednesday. I have definitely seen improvement in the girls that have been coming to the workouts. We haven't had team tryouts yet due to state guidelines, but have them scheduled for next week and hope that every girl that wants to be on the team will come and demonstrate her skills."

Formal tryouts are scheduled for Monday, July 27, with 10th, 12th graders trying out from 8:00 AM until 9:30, and 7th, 9th graders trying out from 10:00 until 11:30. Tryouts will be held at the Elba High gym and all girls should bring their own water bottles and towels.

Elba Lady Tiger volleyball coach Caiden Harrell is ready for tryouts on July 27.

Following is a preview of this year's schedule:
August 21 – Daleville
Elba will kick off the season at home against the 3A Daleville Warhawks, a team that has been a regular on the Tigers schedule since 2015. The Tigers own a 14-6 all-time record against Daleville, but the 'Hawks have won two of the last three meetings and last season posted a wild 38-28 win. Daleville has posted five straight winning seasons, posted a 7-4 record last season and averaged over 41 points per game.

August 28 – At, Opp
Elba will hit the road for a week #2 showdown against the 3A Opp Bobcats. It will mark the 85th meeting between the two longtime rivals in a series that began way back in 1923. The Tigers own a 40-44 all-time record in the series, but have won the last three meetings, including an exciting 36-34 victory last season. The Bobcats have struggled to three straight losing seasons and during that time have posted a combined record of 8-23.

September 4 – At, G.W. Long
Elba will swing into region play in the third week of the season when they travel to Skipperville to do battle with the G.W. Long Rebels. The meeting will be only the sixth ever between the new region rivals, with the Tigers holding a slim 3-2 series edge, although the Rebels did snap a three-game losing streak a year ago with a high scoring 46-35 win. The Rebels posted a 10-3 record last season after winning a total of just three games the previous two seasons.

September 11 – Zion Chapel

Elba will return home after a two-week road swing when they entertain the Zion Chapel Rebels in a renewal of a cross-county rivalry after a two-year absence. The Tigers boast a 10-0 record over their rivals and won the last meeting 62-0 in 2017. The Rebels continued their recent success last season and posted a 6-5 record and earned a spot in the 2A playoffs for the first time since 2011.

September 18 – At, Cottonwood

Elba will travel over to Houston County in week #5 for a region clash with the Cottonwood Bears. The Tigers own a 5-3 series record against the Bears, and will take the field against their new region rivals for the first time since 2011, which they won by the lopsided score of 69-15. The Bears struggled to a 3-7 record last season and haven't posted a winning record since 2014.

September 25 – Providence Christian

Elba will face its third 3A opponent in six weeks when it hosts the Providence Christian Eagles for the first time ever. The Eagles have been a member of the Alabama High School Athletic Association since 2006, and over the past two seasons have developed into a 3A power in posting a stellar 22-4 record.

October 2 – Geneva County

Elba will return to the region wars for a week #7 home field battle against the Geneva County Bulldogs. The region clash will be the first meeting between the new region rivals since back in 2005, and the Tigers hold a 26-15 series edge over the Bulldogs and have won the last four contests by a combined score of 178-45. The Bulldogs have only posted two winning records over the last five seasons and last season struggled to a 4-6 record despite averaging over 44 points per game.

October 9 – At, Abbeville

Elba will be back on the road and will remain in region action when they travel to Henry County for a battle with the Abbeville Yellowjackets. The Tigers hold a 7-2-1 series edge; however, the new region rivals have not meet since 2007. Elba has won five of the last six contests, including a big 47-19 victory in 2007. One of the Abbeville wins came way back in the 1966 Peanut Bowl, when the 'Jackets claimed a 16-7 win. The Yellowjackets have won a total of 27 games over the last three seasons, posted an 8-3 record a year ago, and have earned a playoff berth four straight years.

October 16 – At, Ariton

Elba will be back on the road in week #9 when the Tigers tangle with the Ariton Purple Cats, for the first time since way back in 1930. The Tigers own a 2-0 series edge in the brief history between the two new region rivals and have won the two games by a combined score of 137-7. The Purple Cats have won a total of 29 games over the last three seasons, including a 10-3 slate a year ago, and have posted four straight winning records after winning a total of only seven games the previous three seasons.

October 23 – Houston County

Elba will close out regular season play at home against the Houston County Lions. The new region rivals have split their six game series 3-3, with the Tigers winning the last match-up 21-14 back in 2009. The Lions have only posted two winning seasons in the last ten years, and struggled to a 1-9 record a year ago while averaging only 15 points per game.

Changes announced for 2020-2021 hunting seasons in Alabama

The 2020-2021 hunting season will bring big changes for white-tailed deer hunters in a few parts of Alabama with the creation of two new deer zones. The newly created zones D and E will allow hunters to gun hunt before and during the peak of the rut (deer breeding season) in those locations.

Zone D includes areas in Cullman, Franklin, Lawrence and Winston counties. Zone E includes areas in Barbour, Calhoun, Cleburne and Russell counties. Archery season for zones D and E will open on October 1, 2020. Gun deer season for antlered bucks will open in both zones on November 7, 2020. Antlered bucks can be taken in zones D and E through January 27, 2021. The unantlered deer harvest dates differ between zones D and E, and both zones close to unantlered deer harvest earlier in January.

Archery deer season opens in zones A, B and C on October 15, 2020. For complete deer season dates and zone information, visit www.outdooralabama.com/seasons-and-bag-limits/deer-season.

In Alabama, the peak of the rut varies throughout the state. This is due, in part, to deer restocking efforts that occurred decades ago. Deer population data collected over the last 25 years by Alabama Division of Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries (WFF) biologists is leading to a better understanding of the state's deer population. That data is also providing improved hunting opportunities, including the fine-tuning of the state's deer hunting zones to allow hunters to hunt the peak of the rut statewide.

Hunters are reminded to record their deer harvest before moving the animal using a paper harvest record or through Game Check in the Outdoor AL smartphone app. If using the paper harvest record in the field, hunters must still report their harvest within 48 hours through Game Check using the Outdoor AL app or online at outdooralabama.com.

DOVE SEASON COMES EARLY THIS YEAR
Dove season for the North Zone will open on Labor Day weekend this year, a week earlier than in previous years. Both the north and south zones feature split seasons.

This year's North Zone dove season will open on September 5 and run through October 25 for the first segment. Hunters on opening day can hunt from noon until sunset. After opening day, hunting is allowed from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset. The second segment runs November 21-29, and the final segment is set for December 12 through January 10, 2021.

The South Zone season opens on September 12 and runs through November 1. The final two segments mirror the North Zone dates. The daily bag limit is 15 birds of either mourning doves or white-winged doves or a combination of the two.

Registration for the state's youth dove hunts will open in August 2020.

SANDHILL CRANE SEASON RETURNS
Sandhill crane hunting returns for the 2020-2021 season. Last year saw the first sandhill crane season in Alabama in more than 100 years.

The season dates are split into two segments with the first running from December 4 to January 3, 2021. The second segment will be January 11-31, 2021. The daily, season and possession limit is three birds per permit. Hunters can harvest all three birds in one day if they choose.

TURKEY SEASON OVERVIEW
For most of the state, the 2020-2021 turkey season will run March 20 through May 2, 2021. Zone 4 (Clarke, Clay, Covington, Monroe, Randolph and Talladega counties) has both a fall and spring season. The fall season in Zone 4 runs November 21-29, and December 12 through January 1, 2021. Spring turkey season will be delayed for research purposes on the following Wildlife Management Areas: Barbour, J.D. Martin-Skyline, Hollins, Oakmulgee, Lowndes, Choccolocco and Perdido River. The delayed season will run March 27 to May 2, 2021.

Special youth hunts will take place on the Saturday and Sunday the week prior to all opening days of the spring season. For complete turkey season dates and zone information, visit www.outdooralabama.com/seasons-and-bag-limits/turkey-season.

ADDITIONAL SEASON INFORMATION
All other hunting seasons including waterfowl, feral pig, bobwhite quail, squirrel, rabbit, trapping information and more can be found on the seasons and bag limits page of outdooralabama.com or in the 2020-2021 Alabama Hunting & Fishing Digest (now available).

Alabama's recreational hunting and fishing licenses expire annually on August 31. The presale for 2020-2021 licenses will open on August 24, 2020. Licenses can be purchased from various vendors throughout the state or online at outdooralabama.com.

ADCNR is once again offering hard card licenses for the 2020-2021 season. For an additional $5 fee, purchasers can select from six new designs including white-tailed deer, wild turkey, wood duck, crappie, redbird and a "We the People..." design featuring the Second Amendment.
